

#HERGAMETOO

This week we are pleased to launch our dedicated fixture for this season. The match is in celebration of International Women's Day and the partnership between HUFC and Her Game Too.

It will take place on Saturday, March 2 as Hartlepool United take on Barnet in the Vanarama National League.

We at HerGameToo are a group of voluntary female supporters who are passionate about football. We are working to eradicate sexism in the football industry and want women and girls of all ages to feel confident and safe watching their teams, working in the football industry and sharing their opinion about football both online and in real life without fear of sexist abuse.

We are inviting all our girls and women's teams along to take part in a lap of honour. The number of females has increased so much over the past 12 months so will be a great occasion to show our appreciation to the players and coaches from across Hartlepool.

The HUFC players will once again be wearing our HerGameToo warm-up tops. We will have female mascots, ball girls and flagbearers. Clavering School have been invited to be the Junior Poolies for this game in recognition of them being the first school in the country to form an official partnership.

We also need your help!

We want to champion the female supporters of HUFC and are asking for your photos and videos from over the years of women and girls following Pools near and far. Please send us any photos and videos to hartlepoolunitedhgt@outlook.com or via social media that you don't mind us using as we would like to produce a fan reel to use in the run up to the fixture in March.

We also want two girls to read out the teams at the Suit Direct Stadium on the day itself. If you want to be in with a chance of doing this, please let us know your names and we will draw the lucky winners in due course. Thanks in advance and we look forward to hearing from you.
